Getting Ahead by Going Abroad

2:00-3:00 ■ Tomlinson 135

In today's global society, international experience is becoming increasingly important. Join a panel of experienced international adventurers to discuss the importance of education abroad and how to capitalize on your international experiences in your professional careers. The discussion will include information on study, work, internships, and volunteering abroad.

International Fellowship & Scholarship Information Session

3:00-4:00 ■ Tomlinson 139

Interested in learning about international fellowships and scholarships? This informative event will cover eligibility requirements and application process for various international-focused opportunities. Learn what it takes to win one of these prestigious awards.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2016

International Food Trucks

12:00-2:00 ■ The Quad

Local food trucks are going to be rolling into campus to bring the CWRU community a taste of the world! Join UPB and CIA on the Quad to support local businesses that are working to bring an awareness to international cuisine. While you're there, take a minute to fill out a card to welcome newly settled refugees to the Cleveland area.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 2016

Global Talk Series: Forces of Change in Higher Education

12:00-1:30 ■ Tomlinson 135

David Fleshler, Vice Provost of the Center for International Affairs, will lead this month's Global Talk on Forces of Change in Higher Education. This charged discussion will focus on the forces shaping the environment of higher education, the reality of globalization, and considerations for higher education professionals.
